

THEY UNDERSTOOD I WAS SCARED DELIVERING TRIPLETS TEN WEEKS EARLY

Thanks Saint Peter's

Karen Eng

I TRUSTED THE HIGH-RISK SPECIALISTS AT SAINT PETER'S AND THEY DELIVERED.

Having triplets was exciting. Going into labor ten weeks early was frightening. So I didn't just pray for a miracle, I needed three. My babies weighed just over two pounds each when they were born. Thank goodness I could count on the high-risk birth specialists at Saint Peter's University Hospital. Their care and compassion gave me hope when I needed it the most. Today, the triplets who were small enough to fit in my hand are healthy, happy and quite a handful.
