

“We have a dedicated team of breast cancer specialists.”

— Dr. Susan McManus, Breast Surgery

“With a diagnosis of breast cancer, the approach to your care can make all the difference. That’s why so many people put their trust in the hands of the specialists at Saint Peter’s University Hospital.

The Breast Center at Saint Peter’s is the first in central New Jersey to earn a full three-year accreditation by the National Accreditation Program for Breast Centers. We are committed to caring for the whole person, not just treating the cancer. In addition to focusing on the medical aspects of the disease, we offer the compassion and emotional support needed to help patients and their families fight the toughest battle of their lives. Our team members pool their expertise in various specialties to create a customized treatment program for every patient—from diagnostic testing to chemotherapy, radiation, surgery and post-treatment care. At Saint Peter’s, we center our care around our patients.”
